Stalkerscan.com

The screenshot shows the StalkScan.com website with a blue background. At the top, the text 'stalkscan.com' is displayed in white, enclosed in large white brackets. Below this, the text 'All 'public' info Facebook doesn't let you see' is centered. A yellow hand icon points to the text 'Enter the link of the profile you want to check', which is also flanked by yellow hand icons. Below this is a search bar containing the text 'https://facebook.com/yourprofile' and a magnifying glass icon. At the bottom, there is a 'Tweet' button with a Twitter bird icon. The following text is displayed below the search bar: 'Attention: this tool does not violate Facebook's privacy settings. 'Only me' stays 'only me'. It only shows hidden content you have access to, on Facebook. It also shows Facebook doesn't really care about privacy controls and transparency. Almost nobody uses the graph search for legitimate purposes. Half a million people (ab)use StalkScan every month and Facebook does nothing except trying to censor it. People don't know their 'public' data is so easily accessible, Mark. Stop being a hypocrite and do something about it. Thanks.'

Bot or not?

<http://truthy.indiana.edu/botornot/>

The screenshot shows the Botometer website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links like Home, Content, Sign In, Live up, 201811, Rotary, Web C, Rotary, My rec, Arch K, Journ, API, Fact-ch, Hoary, How F, Fact Ch, First D, How th, Bot, X, and a search bar. Below the navigation bar, the main heading is "Botometer" with the tagline "An OSoMe project (bot•o•meter)". To the right of the heading is a logo featuring two blue birds. Below the heading, there's a paragraph explaining that Botometer (formerly BotOrNot) checks the activity of a Twitter account and gives it a score based on how likely the account is to be a bot. Higher scores are more bot-like. It also mentions that use of the service requires Twitter authentication and permissions, and provides a link to the FAQ. Below this, there's a text box with the Twitter handle "tschmedding" and three buttons: "Check user", "Check followers", and "Check friends". The main content area displays the analysis results for the Twitter profile "@tschmedding". The profile picture is a woman's face. The score is "0.3 / 5" with a gauge icon. The analysis is divided into three columns: "English-specific features", "Language-independent features", and "Bot score based on". The "English-specific features" column shows "Content: 0.8" and "Sentiment: 1.5". The "Language-independent features" column shows "Friend: 0.8", "Network: 0.8", "Temporal: 1.0", and "User: 0.2". The "Bot score based on" column shows "All features: 0.3", "Language-independent: 0.9", "User profile language: en", and "Complete Automation Probability: 0%". To the right of the analysis, there are four buttons: "Profile", "Tweet", "Details", and "Feedback". At the bottom right, there's an "Export data" button.

English-specific features	Language-independent features	Bot score based on
Content: 0.8	Friend: 0.8	All features: 0.3
Sentiment: 1.5	Network: 0.8	Language-independent: 0.9
	Temporal: 1.0	User profile language: en
	User: 0.2	Complete Automation Probability: 0%

Real Satire

Watch the Show!

The Beaverton is a weekly satirical news show airing Wednesdays at 10 pm on Comedy, just before Full Frontal with Sam Bee. A televised adaptation of the immensely popular website TheBeaverton.com, it files fictional stories of the utmost importance, informed by real events, the cultural zeitgeist, and national news media. Using a “fake news” platform The Beaverton offers devastating insight and biting commentary on Canadian life, politics, and the world around us.
